++ Valid for broadcast between 1800 and 0600

Headline:
Dry at first on Saturday but becoming wet for most.

This Evening and Tonight:
A few showers continuing this evening, particularly across Shropshire and Staffordshire. However, all areas will become dry overnight and with clear spells, a patchy frost is possible in places. Turning cloudier and less cold by the morning. Minimum temperature 0 deg C (32 deg F).

Saturday:
Some brightness first thing in the east, otherwise cloudy but dry to begin the day. Rain arriving in the west during the morning, spreading east through the afternoon. Becoming milder. Maximum temperature 12 deg C (54 deg F).

Outlook for Sunday to Tuesday:
Remaining largely unsettled and cloudy with occasional periods of rain, but perhaps brighter on Tuesday. Breezy at times, and rather windy on Sunday night. Staying on the mild side throughout.
